SEYMOUR TO HAVE SEVEN STORY HOTEL

Newly Formed Stock Company Plans to Erect Building at Chestnut and Tipton Streets.

IDEAL LOCATION SELECTED

About Fifty Local Business Men Interested in Organization—Work to be Rushed.

That Seymour is to have a new seven-story hotel to cost between $125,000 and $150,000 is practically assured. A stock company composed of about fifty local business men together with outside capital has been formed and the articles of incorporation are being drawn up by Oscar B. Abel, a local attorney, preparatory to a meeting of the stockholders to be held the latter part of this week.

It has been generally known that the hotel proposition has been under way for several months and the matter has been carefully investigated by those behind the movement before forming a company. E. F. Maxon, druggist, has been at the head of the movement and has devoted considerable time to the proposition. With the assistance of others Mr. Maxon has interested local capital and has sold several thousand dollars worth of stock during the past week which resulted in the hotel company being formed.

It is planned to call the new hotel "The Colonial," and it will be one of the finest in the state when completed. It is pointed out that with the three railroads and interurban line passing through this city and the fact that Seymour is located almost halfway between Indianapolis and Louisville, many people would stop in this city every night if afforded attractive hotel accommodations. Several other cities are planning on new hotel buildings but it is the opinion of many traveling salesmen and others who have business here that Seymour is the ideal location for a first class hotel.

It is not only the intention of the new hotel company to take care of the traveling public but a convention hall will be equipped on the second floor where meetings of all kinds may be held. In years past Seymour has had an opportunity to get several state meetings and conventions but was forced to turn them down because there was no place to hold them.

The plans for the new hotel building include the lobby, rest parlors for ladies, dining room, on the first floor, convention and banquet hall on the second floor and about eighty-five rooms, equipped with bath and showers which occupy the other five stories of the building. Elevator service will be installed.

During the past few weeks several prominent hotel men from the larger cities have been here looking over the situation and already three have applied for a lease on the building when it is completed. One prominent Louisville hotel man who was in the city in the interest of the new hotel said that this city offers the best opening for a good hotel in Southern Indiana.

One of the features in selecting the location at Chestnut and Tipton streets is the fact that both the north and south and east and west main highways cross there. It is also pointed out that the hotel will be only two squares from any of the railroad stations and will not be against the railroad tracks.

The men behind the new hotel have had applications from several reputable architects desiring to offer bids for plans and specifications for the new building. A meeting of the stockholders will be held the latter part of the week to complete preliminary arrangements. Architects will be called here soon to go over the situation and make plans for the new hotel which will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

MANY UTILITY CONCERNS ON THE POINT OF CLOSING

Letter Sent to Companies Asking if Limited Service is Not Compulsory.

By United Press

Indianapolis, Nov. 19—With the coal situation such that many utility concerns are on the point of closing, the utilities fuel committee today sent a letter to all public utility concerns calling upon them to "ask themselves if the time has not come for the elimination of all consumption of coal consistent with public health and safety. The letter was sent out following a conference of E. I. Lewis, chairman of the Indiana public service commission, Evans Woolen, chairman of the Utility fuel committee, and W. Tobin, secretary of the utilities fuel committee.

COAL SUPPLY OF LOCAL PLANTS LOW

Seymour Furniture Company Closes Machine Room Because of Scarcity of Fuel.

OTHERS MAY CLOSE THIS WEEK

Number of Industries Here Are Face to Face With Coal Famine—Shipments Stopped.

Industrial plants in this city are face to face with the coal famine and a number of them will be forced to close within the next week or ten days unless fuel is provided for them. The Seymour Furniture Company, East Second street, closed its machine room Tuesday night because of shortage of fuel. The cabinet room and finishing department are still in operation and will not be closed for probably two weeks or even longer unless severe winter weather should set in. In such case the fuel supply at that factory would not be sufficient to provide adequate heat for even these departments.

Most of the industrial plants here have ordered coal but the shipments to factories have been stopped in order that the available supply above the ground at this time may be used for emergency purposes. Some of the plants here expected coal to arrive just before the fuel administration issued its latest order.

MAJESTIC IS OFFERED FOR CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT

Management of Local Theater Will Give House for Big Municipal Program During Holidays.

W. W. Eagleston, manager of the Majestic Theater, has offered the theater free of charge for the proposed municipal Christmas entertainment during holiday week. The offer added impetus to the movement to hold a city program for the children of the city.

Since the first announcement of the proposed entertainment, several days ago, it has been suggested that it be held on Sunday night following Christmas day and that all the churches join in making it a union entertainment. If the ministers do not wish to give up their Sunday night service, the program could be presented in the afternoon, it is stated, without interfering with any other services.

The Majestic affords an excellent place for holding the entertainment. Two large Christmas trees could be placed on the stage and the possibilities for elaborate decorations are almost unlimited.

A play, "Fudge and the Burglar," with miscellaneous program given by C. C. Club of St. Paul Sunday School, Wednesday 8 p. m. at the Sunday School room. Everybody invited. Admission free. Supper 25c. n19d

The minstrel given at the Lutheran Club Tuesday evening will be repeated tonight to accommodate those who were unable to gain admission at the first performance.

SEYMOUR ROTARY MONTHLY MEETING

Novel Features Introduced at Meeting Held Tuesday Evening at New Lynn.

PRESENTATIONS AT ROLL CALL

Nathan Kaufman Tells Story of His Life and Other Speakers Make Brief Addresses.

The monthly meeting of the Seymour Rotary Club was held Tuesday evening at the New Lynn Hotel. An excellent luncheon was served at 6:45 o'clock by the ladies of the Christian church. W. L. Johnson presided and wielded the gavel effectively. The first number on the program was special music by Don A. Bollinger. Mr. Bollinger announced that any member of the club was at liberty to call for any song he wished and he would play it. Ten or twelve songs were sung. Mr. Bollinger then stretched a sheet across the piano key board and blindfolded played a selection as a concluding feature of his part of the program.

The roll call was varied by asking each member when his name was called to present to the member on his right something representative of his business. The presentations were made with brief addresses and many humorous situations arose during the presentations. The articles contributed varied all the way from an A. B. C. primer used in the primary department at school to sample sacks of flour and sugar. Other articles included were diamonds, apples, paper, medicine, clothing, electric lights, artificial flowers, legal documents, ice and in fact every business represented had some appropriate souvenir to present the member sitting next on each speaker's right. Louis Miller, of Louisville, was introduced during the roll call as the guest of W. L. Clark.

Nathan Kaufman told the story of his life under the general subject of "Why I Am What I Am." He stated that so far as he knows he is the only foreign born American citizen who is a member of the Rotary Club. He was naturalized in 1892 and through all the war period was actively at work in all patriotic movements to assist the government in the prosecuting of the war. He related a number of amusing incidents showing the difficulties which he had to encounter when he came to this country as a boy fourteen years of age without any knowledge of our language or habits and how these had been overcome until he finally took charge of his present business with the Gold Mine Department Store.

Three minute stories and talks were made by a number of members present. C. H. Wiethoff, chairman of the program committee, handled a Big Ben Alarm clock which promptly called time on any speaker who exceeded his time limit. The three minute speakers were Senator E. P. Elsner, Frank J. Voss, Henry Osterman, Dr. Harold Graessle, Rev. J. H. More, George A. Clark, Jay C. Smith and Prof. T. A. Mott. At the close of the addresses the Rotary songs were sung, led by Wm. L. Federmann with Don A. Bollinger at the piano.

Rev. A. A. Stanley, who has been pastor of the Baptist church at Tampico for several months, has resigned to accept a call of the First Baptist church at Grenada, Miss. Grenada is a city of about 25,000 and is planning the erection of a $15,000 Sunday School annex at once in addition to raising $27,000 toward the $75,000,000 missionary campaign put on by the Southern Baptist Convention.

FARMERS DISCUSS MANY QUESTIONS

County is Represented at Meeting of Federation of Farmers' Associations in Indianapolis.

HENRY FOSBRINK DELEGATE

Local Organization to Hold Annual Session at Brownstown Saturday to Elect Officers.

Henry Fosbrink, of Vallonia, who represented the Jackson County Farmers Federation at the annual meeting of the Indiana Federation of Farmers Associations in Indianapolis Tuesday, reported a session of unusual interest upon his return here today. Nearly every county which is organized was represented at the meeting, he said, and many questions which are of vital interest to the farmers of the state were discussed.

"While the meeting was very satisfactory," said Mr. Fosbrink, "there were some minor things which did not please all the delegates, but these were not regarded of sufficient importance to warrant a fight at this time. Of course, it is expected that some matters of disagreement would arise as the interests represented are very complex. There is no question but that the organization is doing much to protect the farmers of the state and the membership ought to be one hundred percent. of the farmer population in Indiana. The federation is yet in its infancy and many

LUTHERAN MINSTREL IS A BIG SUCCESS

Show Will be Repeated at The Club House This Evening—Many Tickets Sold.

The minstrel given by members of the Lutheran Club at the club house Tuesday evening scored a big hit and the performance will be repeated this evening to accommodate those who were unable to gain admission last night.

The performance opened with a song by the chorus. The four end men, Otto Ahlbrand as Mose, Arthur Wilde, as Bones, Martin Steinwedel as Tambo and William Topie, as Sambo, kept the audience amused with their brand new jokes and each scored a big hit. Martin F. Walkenhurst was the interloper. Solos by Ben Hoffmeier, Arthur Wilde and Oswald Fry were well received by the large audience and each was forced to respond to encores.

The second act consisted of several specialty numbers including a ducky dialogue which was well received. For the grand finale the chorus sang "America" as a large American flag was lowered to separate the stage from the audience. At the same time six white doves were released from behind the scenes and allowed to fly over the auditorium to represent the peace that now reigns throughout the world.

LOCAL TELEPHONE RATES TO BE ANNOUNCED SOON

Public Service Commission Considering Schedule Submitted by Commissioner Corr.

Information has come to The Republican that the Indiana Public Service commission will soon announce the new telephone rates for this city. It is understood that the schedule which was prepared by Commissioner Corr, who held two hearings in this city, is being considered by the other members of the commission and will be ready for announcement within a few days. Several changes were made, it is stated, and a few others are considered. The rates, according to the information reaching here, will not be much different from those now in force, although a slight decrease will be ordered. According to the agreement of the telephone company the subscribers are to be rebated the difference in the rates fixed by the commissioner and those now in effect, effective from July 1.

Mrs. Willard Kendall and Mrs. Louis Sager of Peters Switch, were in this city today shopping.

NO CURTAILMENT OF TRANSPORTATION NOW

Director General Hines So Announces After Conference With Regional Heads.

By United Press

Chicago, Nov. 19—Transportation will not be curtailed at present because of shortage of coal, Rail Director of Hines announced today following a conference with regional railroad directors here.

"Whether or not there will be any curtailment of transportation depends entirely on future developments," Hines said. Railroads will attempt to meet the present shortage in some districts by distribution of large quantities of coal held in a few places.

SENSATIONAL MAN HUNT IN WYOMING

Troop of Cavalry Aiding in Search for William Carlisle, Alleged Train Robber.

THREE DAYS OUT OF PRISON

Authorities Convinced That Escaped Convict Held Up and Robbed Los Angeles Limited.

By United Press

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 19—The biggest man hunt in Wyoming's history was in progress today. A troop of United States cavalry from Fort Russell assisted by a dozen armed men, was on the trail of William Carlisle, arch-train robber who held up and robbed two trains on his third day out of prison. Authorities today were convinced that Carlisle who escaped from prison on Saturday is the man who held up the Los Angeles limited last night and later ransacked the train of the men searching for him.

The bandit's statement to passengers, "I am not robbing old men, women, children, soldiers or sailors," convinced authorities that it was Carlisle who staged the spectacular holdup.

In three train robberies in Wyoming in 1916 for which he was sentenced to life imprisonment Carlisle showed consideration for women and children.

Last night Crack Los Angeles limited, number 19, on the Union Pacific, was held up and robbed between Medicine Bow and Rock River. The bandit helped himself to contents of the baggage car, held up passengers in true Jesse James style and jumped from the train as it was going twenty miles an hour into Medicine Bow.

He left the train guard locked in a smoking room. A volley of bullets followed the robber as he rolled down the embankment and it was reported that he was wounded.

A special train carrying a troop of United States cavalry and armed guards was sent out to aid in the bandit chase.

The holdup was staged while scores of armed posses were searching for Carlisle. Word of his escape had been flashed throughout the west. Special guards were placed on all trains when railroad officials learned that "Carlisle was out again."

The first heard of the bandit after he escaped was when he was seen riding the rods of a freight train through Rock Springs. The train was stopped, surrounded and searched but the bird had flown.

The train went on and a short time later Carlisle appeared riding the cowcatcher. He jumped into the bush and when posses, rushed to the scene, attempted to find him he again had disappeared.

ASKS DEFEAT OF THE RESOLUTION

President Wilson Addresses Letter to Democratic Senators Regarding the Treaty.

PRESENTED BY HITCHCOCK

Executive Contends Resolution in Present Form Does Not Provide for Ratification.

By United Press

Washington, November 19—Senator Lodge offered his formal resolution of ratification just after the senate met. This resolution contains the preamble and fourteen reservations agreed upon by a majority of the senate.

Before Senator Lodge presented his resolution, Senator Hitchcock told newspaper men that sufficient democratic votes were assured to defeat it. Lodge in reply to the president's letter recommending defeat of the resolution of ratification made a statement saying defeat of his resolution would be equivalent to rejection of the treaty. The president's plea that the Lodge resolution be defeated in its entirety threw all compromise proposals into the air. The result of the treaty fight now depends upon whether the administration senators in their conference today agreed to carry out the president's suggestion. President Wilson's letter brought a caustic comment from Senator Lodge, republican leader, who declared the president was undertaking to command the senate to ratify the treaty without the reservation which has been adopted by a majority vote. The senate vote will not follow the president's wishes, Lodge added.

"The senate has equal power and responsibility with the president in the making of treaties," Lodge said.

President Wilson today strongly urged administration senators to defeat the Lodge resolution of ratification of the peace treaty. The Lodge reservation means "nullification" of the treaty, he declared, in a letter to Senator Hitchcock which was read at a conference of democratic senators today.

"I sincerely hope that the friends and supporters of the treaty will vote against the Lodge resolution," of ratification," the president said. "The door will then probably be opened for a genuine resolution of ratification."

Senator Hitchcock, administration leader, read the letter to democratic senators who met today to agree upon their final course in the treaty fight. Wilson stated that the Lodge resolution in its present form does not really provide for ratification of the treaty.

Final lining up of opposition forces for the vote started at an early hour. Senator Hitchcock, administration leader, was trying to get an agreement with "mild reservationists" as to their action in event the resolution is beaten. Hitchcock before noon was to give final orders to the administration senators as to how they should vote. He had in his possession a letter from President Wilson which was thought to contain last instructions to the Democrats. This was not to be opened until the meeting of Democratic members with Hitchcock this morning.

The committee of the whole of the senate late last night completed the work of drafting the resolution of ratification, inserting in it the so-called Lodge reservations, which were drawn up by the foreign relations committee. When this was done, adjournment was taken until noon today when Lodge will report the resolution to the senate.

Unless Wilson orders otherwise, the administration votes certainly will be cast against it, as it contains the reservation which kills article 10 and, in the president's words, "cuts the heart out of the treaty" and constitutes practical rejection thereof.

The tentative program was to beat the pending resolution, then introduce the vote on a resolution for unqualified ratification—which would be beaten—then compromise. All this was tied up with an intricate campaign of parliamentary skirmishing, but the plans are drawn and unless there is a last minute change, it seems likely they will be carried out.

ders. A few factories were fortunate in securing coal just before the strike was called.

Some of the wood working industries here burn the off-fall and kindling along with the coal and by this means are able to keep their plants in operation for a longer period than if they used coal exclusively. With a few exceptions, however, many of the plants will be closed within the next week or ten days unless the strike is settled and the production of coal is immediately started.

The Blish Mills have sufficient coal in storage to keep their plant in operation until Saturday night. The fuel supply at this plant was about exhausted the first of this week, but some coal which was in storage at the Rider Packing Plant, which is now closed, was secured and will prevent a shut down until the end of this week.

The Seymour Woolen Mills have enough coal on hand to keep the factory running for probably ten days. Orders for several car loads have been placed but there is not guarantee that these will be delivered before the present supply is exhausted.

The Seymour Manufacturing Company was fortunate in securing some coal just before the strike was called and by combining coal and wood the plan may be operated for a month. The Seymour Cabinet Company is also fortunate in that it received several cars just before the strike. This concern also burns wood with coal and in this way conserves its coal supply. The Cabinet Company may be in operation for a month, or even longer.

The Seymour Planing Mill and the Reliance Manufacturing Company use electric power and the operation of these plants will not be interfered with until the supply of utility coal is so low that industrial uses must cease.

URGES PEOPLE TO FIGHT CATARRH WITH SIMPLE HOME MADE REMEDY

Can Make Pint at Home and Costs Little, Says Leading Druggist of Covington, Ky., Who Has Made Special Study of Catarrh.

Says: Inflamed Nostrils Invite Influenza

People who say that catarrh is a disease not to be taken seriously are harshly rebuked by a Kentucky druggist who has for years been much interested in the growth of this loathsome, yet altogether too common disease.

He claims that the sore, tender, inflamed membrane of the nostrils and throat is a prolific breeding ground for germs—not only the germs of Influenza, but many other kinds as well.

If people would only stop experimenting for two weeks and try a simple remedy made of Mentholized Arcine mixed with enough boiled water to make a full pint, half of the catarrh in this country would be abolished.

It's really no joke for people who don't know about this simple recipe to be constantly sniffing and snuffing, blowing and hawking, when all these obnoxious symptoms as well as the foul discharge can be made to disappear in a few days.

Ask for three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine—that's all you need and after you have mixed it with enough boiled water to make a pint, gargle the throat twice daily and snuff or spray some up the nostrils, as directed.

The tender nostrils will soon lose their soreness, heal up, and be clean and healthy.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

A beautiful combination marriage announcement party and miscellaneous shower was given Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Lunte, on South Chestnut street in honor of Miss Mildred Prall.

The house was elaborately and artistically decorated with streamers of crepe paper and wedding bells, the color scheme of pink and white being carried out. In the dining room a large wedding bell was hung from the chandelier over the table with festoons of crepe paper extending to the four corners of the table. Bouquets of chrysanthemums were also on the table. The chair for the honor guest was decorated with crepe paper, carrying out the color scheme of the evening.

After the guests were all seated Mrs. Walter Prall read an announcement of the engagement of her daughter, Miss Mildred Prall, to Robert A. Stickens, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Stickens of Columbus. A three course luncheon was served. The table centerpiece was a large bowl with ribbons extending to each cover. These contained the favors, which were paper hearts filled with small candy heart and fortune prizes.

Later in the evening Miss Prall was blindfolded and presented with the gifts, which were arranged in a basket elaborately decorated with ribbons and bells. The gifts were drawn from the basket and the person who presented the first gift drawn was supposed to be the first one of the guests to be married.

The remainder of the evening was spent informally with music, games and contests.

The out-of-town guests present were Misses Gladys and Ruth Hoehn of Elizabethtown, and Miss Thelma Schornick of Brownstown.

The bride-elect is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Prall of East Sixth street. Until recently she attended the Shields High School. The announcement of her engagement comes as a surprise to her large circle of friends. A number of pre-nuptial affairs are being planned in her honor. Mr. Stickens, whose home is in Columbus, is employed in Indianapolis. The wedding will take place in the early spring.

MORARITY—BARLOW.

A very beautiful wedding was solemnized this afternoon at two o'clock at the rectory of the St. Simon's Catholic church, Bedford, when Miss Catherine Lucile Morarity became the bride of Mr. Robert L. Only a few of the intimate relatives and friends were in attendance.

The bride was lovely in a gray georgette gown, a large black picture hat lined with old rose and accessories to match, and carried a large shower bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. She is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Morarity, of Mitchell, and until a few years ago resided in this city. While here she was employed at the Gold Mine Department Store. She attended the Mitchell High School and for the past few years has been associated in business with her parents in the Morarity Market at Mitchell. ### VINCENNES MAN KILLED IN QUARREL OVER WHISKY

Charles West Shot by Joseph Stiff, Brother-in-law—Latter Under Arrest.

Vincennes, Ind., Nov. 19—Joseph Stiff, 22 years old, is in jail here as the result of the killing of Charles West, his brother-in-law, following a quarrel over the location of thirty-one quarts of whisky. According to Stiff's story, he shot after West had struck him several times. Following the shooting he took his revolver home and walked to the police station, giving himself up. West is said to have secreted the whisky in Stiff's home without his knowledge and consent. When Stiff found the liquor, he said, he took it to the country and buried it, fearing a raid by the police. He then refused to reveal the hiding place to West, the quarrel resulting. Officers today were taken to the place where the whisky was buried by Stiff. Stiff is a coal miner, as was West.

U. S. SURGEON GENERAL ISSUES NATIONAL FLU WARNING

NINE HUNDRED CASES REPORTED TO THE U. S. HEALTH SERVICE

Surgeon General Blue Issues Warning for People to Take Proper Precautions.

Dr. Rupert Blue, surgeon general of the United States public health service, wants the public and the authorities to be on guard against the recurrence this fall of the influenza epidemic. In a statement issued last week, he says that the most promising way to deal with this situation is expressed in the word "preparedness," and NOW is the time to prepare the surgeon general added.

Dr. Otto Geier of Cincinnati, Secretary of the American Medical Association, says, "if you hope to keep your health this autumn, get yourself in the pink of physical condition, and take all possible precautions to avoid infection. The Flu is going to hit us again, and the amount of damage it will do depends largely upon how well we prepare for it. In the face of this certainty that we will have to combat influenza this fall, we are totally unprepared to do so."

Doctors are agreed that precautionary measures are more necessary than ever before. The secret of avoiding influenza is to keep the germs from lodging and developing in the respiratory organs—the mouth, nose and throat. The utmost care should be taken not to catch cold, for colds weaken the resistance to influenza germs. No one should be allowed to breathe in your face because the germs are often transmitted in this manner. Finally a good antiseptic should be used frequently. Physicians endorse the use of antiseptics to protect the air passages. Turpo is an effective antiseptic, combining the old-fashioned remedies of turpentine, camphor and menthol in a pure mineral base. These ingredients have long been recognized as effective antiseptics, as well as having really wonderful qualities in relieving colds and congestions. As a preventive for Flu, snuff a little Turpo up the nostrils several times a day, and the Flu germs will have little chance of getting a lodging and breeding place. Many physicians and hospitals use and recommend Turpo.

The fact that for the week, there were nine hundred cases of influenza reported to the United States Health Service makes it important that you prepare now. Buy a thirty cent jar of Turpo of your druggist now while he has a supply on hand, and use as directed.

If in spite of all precaution, Spanish influenza develops, go to bed and summon a physician. Influenza is a serious malady, and requires the best medical attention.

Do your share in preventing the Flu.

of the big problems are yet to be worked out."

Mr. Fosbrink, who was the only representative from Jackson county at the state meeting, will make a detailed report of the convention at the annual meeting of the Jackson county federation which is to be held at Brownstown Saturday. At that time he will explain fully the work of the organization and what was accomplished at the state meeting.

Much interest is being manifested in the meeting at Brownstown Saturday at which time officers for the coming year will be elected. The regular time for choosing officers was the last meeting but this was postponed until after the state meeting so that the details of organization would conform to suggestions of the Indiana federation. All of the townships in the county with the exception of three are already organized and the active workers of the federation are anxious that the organization be one hundred percent, as soon as possible.

county agricultural agent to succeed A. E. Murphy, who recently resigned, will likely be taken up at the meeting of the federation Saturday. James G. Jackson has been recommended by the county board of education for the place but the appointment must come from Purdue University. Some who are interested in the matter declare that the county agents' department of Purdue will be guided largely by the action of the federation of farmers' associations. It is stated that Mr. Jackson was informed that his appointment would be satisfactory to Purdue before he consented to become a candidate for the place. He permitted his name to go before the board of education which must approve Purdue's appointment, only after he had been urged to become a candidate by a large number of farmers, many of whom are affiliated with the federation. He has already received the endorsement of the majority of township organizations.

Garfield Warns Against Attempts to Make Excessive Charges for Coal.

MARGINS OF OPERATORS

Fuel Administration Says Operators Average About 40 Cents Net Per Ton.

By United Press

Washington, November 19—Declaring public interests the paramount issue in the coal situation, Fuel Administrator Garfield today warned against attempts to charge an excessive price for fuel. Garfield's warning was issued in an address to operators and miners who are in conference here to settle their difficulties and negotiate a new wage scale. After flatly refusing to say whether the government will permit any increase in coal prices in case miners get wage raises, Garfield read figures showing the margins made by operators and the percent of mining costs that go into wages of miners.

The people of the country, Garfield said, will see labor deprived of it just due or force a loss upon the men who have invested their money in the mines. Neither will the people consent to be deprived of fuel, a basic necessity, he added.

Operators throughout the country average a margin of about forty cents a ton after paying costs of miners and selling the coal at the government's price of $2.61 per ton, Garfield said.

One of the questions being asked today is "is it true that operators having set the price of coal to an excessive figure during the war time now propose to keep it there?"

Garfield said he did not wish to answer this question, adding that the answer rests with this conference.

TANK-TYPE TRACTOR
Saves Money on Road Work

FIGURE out for yourself the cost per day of, say, six of your very best horses and mules.

You will find that you have an investment of not less than $1,500 and an upkeep cost of at least $900 to $1,000 a year.

Now go over your records—see just how many days those six animals worked during the last twelve months.

Remember that those days that they did not work must be counted as dead loss.

With these figures before you, you have a fair, conservative standard with which to compare Cletrac power—for on hundreds of road jobs the Cletrac is handling more work day in and day out than six horses and six mules can handle.

And it keeps on working regardless of weather conditions, and it isn't eating up a high priced feed while idle.

The Cletrac is the only moderate-priced tractor that works successfully over the rough ground.

Above are pictured two pretty sewing or darning sets which are intended to hang somewhere conveniently on a wall or be suspended from some place of vantage on the bedroom furniture. At the right of the picture an embroidery hoop is wound with narrow satin ribbon and decorated with bows having many long loops. A thimble, spool of thread, emery bag and needle case are all tied to the hoop or suspended from it. The small kitten of cloth, much dressed up with a bow of ribbon on the neck, carries darning needles in its side and large pins along its back. A little, tinkling silver bell hangs on the ribbon about its neck.

At the left two heart-shaped pieces of cardboard covered with figured satin are sewed together along the sides forming a pocket open at the top which will hold needles, pins and other things. A spool of black and a spool of white thread are fastened to the front of the pocket with a ribbon. Small scissors are suspended at the bottom, a thimble is placed at the left and a glove darning at the right. Large pins with white heads finish off the edge of the pocket and a few safety pins are suspended on a bit of ribbon at the center.

ARSON CASE BEING TRIED AT SCOTTSBURG

John Repp Charged Jointly With L. A. Perry With Burning The Bocher Red Men's Building.

The case of the state of Indiana vs. John Repp, charged jointly with L. A. Perry with burning the Red Men's Hall at Bocher, December 25, 1915, is on trial in the Scott circuit court.

Long before court opened the court room was filled with witnesses and spectators. In no trial since the time that Hardy Rinal was tried for killing his young rival at Lexington, has there been manifested more interest, than the Repp case.

The state is represented by Prosecutor Royce, George V. Cain and H. Miller, of Indianapolis, representing the State Fire Marshal. The defendant is represented by Judge John M. Lewis, of Seymour, and L. N. Mace and S. B. Wells of the local bar.

This fire occurred on December 25, 1915, and created much indignation and excitement, because not only the Red Men's new hall with all the paraphernalia of the Lodge was burned, as well as the store on the lower floor, owned by John Repp and Lawrence A. Perry.

John Repp was seen removing some goods at night, about two weeks after the fire. He ran and got away. The goods were found to be some of the goods belonging to Perry and Repp. Repp and Perry were indicted by the grand jury. Repp disappeared and was never heard of until he was arrested in Arkansas. Perry was arrested but the case was finally dismissed. The Deputy Fire Marshal made an affidavit against Mr. Perry and he was arrested the night before Repp's case was to be tried. He gave bond with his father and Mr. Gaither, of Blocher, as sureties and returned home.

At the end of the two days, when court closed at six o'clock Saturday night, the sixth witness was on the stand, Mrs. Stella Rutherford, who was not cross examined. Rev. Banks described the finding of a lot of goods in Barnett Chasteen's possession, but would not say Repp was the other man. Barnett Chasteen was excused from testifying when he said he was afraid his testimony might incriminate him. J. M. Ellison identified a lot of the goods found at Chasteen's as a part of those he sold Repp. Ellison admitted on cross-examination that the flue in the store room was bad, and fire had blown out of the flue on the store floor while he owned the store.

Mrs. Rutherford testified buying a $2.50 pair of shoes for $1.00; ten towels for $1.00 and a dozen bath napkins for $1.00 the day of the fire. The state insisting that this showed a motive for Perry and Repp to burn the store. Three fourths of all the two days was taken up in clashes between Special Prosecutor Miller of the state fire marshal's office and Judge J. M. Lewis, for the defense. Judge Lewis was on his feet dictating to the stenographer his objections, or motions to strike out questions, that were incompetent, and reading law to support his objections, more than half of the time on Saturday. The word "objection overruled" and "exception" was announced by the judge not a dozen, but hundreds of times, and Judge Lewis says he has enough errors in the records to reverse the case should the defendant be convicted. The incessant clashes between the opposing lawyers furnished about the only interest in the case. At one time the interest was heightened when Judge Carney lost his temper and resented the statements of Judge Lewis, because the spectators were permitted to clap their hands, when some spirited talk was engaged in by lawyers, and the judge did not call them down. Court adjourned from Saturday to Tuesday in order that Judge Carney could open court Monday at Versailles, L. N. Mace at Vernon and S. B. Wells at New Albany, where Mace and Wells were acting as special judges. Indications are that the case will last all week.—Scott County Journal.

3. Included profits on all subsidiary corporations.
4. To sum up—it included the entire profit from every source of revenue in which Swift & Company has any interest. There are no other profits.

Diamond Cut Diamond

By JANE BUNKER

He paused for a bitter laugh and to wipe his face with his handkerchief. "Perhaps you sink he says zat. Non! He tells me—De Ravenol. I know you steal zose diamonds while you pretend zey are lost. Sings like zat don't come lost so easy as you say. So I punish you for a robber and see zat you gain nossing from stealing my jewels."

Monsieur heaved a great sigh. "Zis morning, if I have zose diamonds, I am already on my way to Mexico, but now—"

"Hide man, hide for a couple of days," urged Billy, trying to cheer him up. "We'll help you. I think you ought to be down in your den now—I'm afraid every minute that man may turn up here again."

Later, I remembered the alacrity with which monsieur accepted the offer, assuring us fervently, "Only to hide saves me and my child from disgrace. I srow myself on your mercy—I trust you wis my honaire—wis what is dearest to me—wis my life."

Billy was deeply affected. I could see, and hurried monsieur off, returning in about half an hour to report. "All serene."

I fell asleep and was dreaming that the dome of the national capitol was tottering over on all of us, when I was awakened by the ringing of the front bell.

I saw by the dim light it was early—too early for anything but a fresh calamity—and I hopped out of bed and ran to the door.

"Who's there?" I called through.

"Billy. Open quick."

Billy tumbled in. "Claire's kidnaped!" he shouted in my face.

I don't know whether I put my arms around him, or he put his around me. Both, probably; but the next minute we were clinging together and his chest was heaving with hard dry sobs. When I finally got a coherent account out of him he told me that Claire had been a "little light-headed" through the evening.

"Then she's just wandered off in a half-delirious state," I affirmed positively.

"She's kidnaped," Billy affirmed more positively. "Old Follow-up has enticed her out on the pretext of finding her father, and now he'll use her as bait to get him out. I can't decide whether to see him and tell him now, or wait."

"Don't tell him yet," I advised promptly. "You're all upset and you think she's kidnaped—I know she isn't—she's just lost. She's wandering about the streets now looking for her father."

I dressed. What could I do? Nothing but stay home and wait—as I had been doing all through. I was hardly through my simple breakfast when George came up.

"Why, that gen'tem'n—the one sent the note you wouldn't see yestiddy—he say he got an appointment with you fer nine o'clock."

The very man Billy believed had kidnaped Claire!

"Show him up," I instructed with alacrity; and when he came I greeted him so affably he looked afraid to enter.

I almost flung the question at him—"Where is Miss de Ravenol?"—before I thought, but saved it just in time. He sat down in the chair I pushed forward; I sat opposite. He seemed at a loss to begin; I said not one word.

He opened fire on me thus: "I feel I owe you an apology for my unceremonious call yesterday—"

I merely bowed in acknowledgment. "I shouldn't have insisted, you know, only we had traced the man to the house, and since he had called on you the evening before, it was a natural conclusion that he was calling on you then, also. They drove from their hotel to the Grand Central station, dismissed the carriage there and I have lost sight of their combined movement for about an hour."

"And you don't know where the girl is?" I asked, trembling a little and trying to control my voice.

"No—not yet. There is no chance of her hiding—or of her being hidden—for more than a few days—a few hours. No chance. Most natural that she should have gone in search of her father. He has not left the city—I am positive on that score. It is probable the girl has joined him by a preconcerted plan—or was meaning to when she left the house. I'll find her, I promise you!"

"And nothing is going to happen to her after you find her?"

"Happen to her! What could happen to her? I have nothing to do with her—my business is to locate her father and arrange a matter with him—quietly, I hope."

"And will the emperor imprison him if the diplomatic matter isn't satisfactorily arranged?"

"The emperor? I'm sure I can't say—I don't know anything about the emperor's diplomatic affairs."

"Then what are you after De Ravenol for?"

He reflected a few moments, and then with one of his funny looks, he remarked: "I'd rather have you for a friend than an enemy. It appears that De Ravenol carried off a million dollars' worth of diamonds in Paris the moment they were returned from the diamond cutter's in Antwerp where he had induced the owner to send them for recutting."

"Oh, never!" I exclaimed, shocked, and at the same time appreciating how monsieur had foreseen this very accusation. "I can't believe he's a thief—it's impossible."

"I don't wonder you doubt it," he replied. "I did myself for a while—that's what gave him the start of me." And with that, off he went.

Poor monsieur! Accused of stealing the emperor's diamonds! And suddenly the words, "They were stolen the moment they were returned from the diamond cutter's in Antwerp," flashed over me and into perspective, and with them, the thing I tried all along to remember, and couldn't—monsieur's slip when he told us the legend of the diamonds; he said they were cut in Venice in the fifteenth century and they were cut in Antwerp in the twentieth! The most modern cut, and Van Ruten cut them! I'd been trying to remember about Van Ruten when I threw down the proof sheets of "Belgian Byways."

I snatched the pages off the table and fingered them back and forth and found at last an obscure little passage:

"Van Ruten's most important work of recent years was the cutting of a collection of seven diamonds, worth at a rough estimate five million francs, which an American millionaire purchased in Paris from an Indian rajah."

De Ravenol stole the diamonds from the millionaire and told Billy and me a pleasing yarn to account for his possession. Of course he wouldn't dare mention when the diamonds were last cut!

RELIEVED AFTER SIXTEEN YEARS

Had to Live on Crackers and Water. Stomach Got So Bad

"For sixteen years I had stomach trouble," said W. A. Acuff, of Knoxville, Tenn., a car inspector for the Southern Railway Company.

"It finally got so bad that I had to live on crackers and water."

"Anything heavier than that would sour on my stomach and would cause gas to rise up. Then my stomach would get so sore that I could hardly touch it."

"Finally I started taking Meritone. I'm on my third bottle now and I want to tell you I'm feeling fine."

"I could notice improvement from the first bottle. My appetite began to pick up and my stomach felt better."

"Now, I can eat anything I want and as much of it as I want, without any bad effects on my stomach."

"The change from bread and water to anything I want to eat sure has made a change in me for the better and I feel like a new man."

Meritone is highly recommended for ailing conditions of the system, such as stomach, liver or kidney trouble, or for etarrh, rheumatism, sleeplessness or lack of appetite.

Meritone is sold exclusively in Seymour by Maxon's Pharmacy.

Service Through Organization

THE only difference between big business and little business lies in the number of units of effort and the character of service rendered.

The laboring man is in business for himself. He renders a service by selling his time, energy and skill.

Big business is the grouping together of a great many units to render a greater service by co-ordinating the efforts of the individuals and selling the results of their combined time, energy and skill.

Up to a few years ago the general public did not understand the ideals of service underlying big business. What it did not understand it distrusted and naturally condemned.

When the Allies decided to organize their armies on the basis of big business—for a common service—they began to get results, and the world saw the benefits to be derived from intelligent organization.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a big business, organized to render a useful service.

The objective of the Company is to manufacture the greatest number of useful products from crude petroleum, to distribute them so that they are available to all and to sell them at a minimum price.

The methods by which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) renders these services embrace the truest financial democracy, the most advanced merchandising practices and extensive scientific research.

These are intended to expand the usefulness of the Company as a public servant, by maintaining the quality of petroleum products manufactured at the highest standard, by making an adequate return to those who are investing their money or their time in the business of the Company and enabling the public to secure their requirements of such products at a minimum of expense.

It is this spirit of co-operation animating the Board of Directors which enables the Company to discharge its complete obligation as a public servant in a manner satisfactory to its patrons.

BOLSHEVISM MUST GO SAYS Y.M.C.A.

Five Thousand Delegates Attending
Fortieth Triennial Conception in Detroit.

FIRST SESSION SINCE WAR

World Wide Expansion to be Undertaken by Organization—Rural Community Work.

By United Press
Detroit, Nov. 19—"Bolshevism must go."

This was the decision here today of 5,000 delegates attending the opening session, fortieth triennial convention, Young Men's Christian Association of North America. Delegates were here from the United States, insular possessions and Canada.

No joint meeting of the Canadian and American Y. M. C. A. officials had been held since the United States entered the world war. The last international convention was in Cleveland, in 1916.

Important subjects to be studied during the session, which lasts until Friday, as outlined by officials, follow:

Co-operation of the Y. M. C. A. in assimilating back into American and Canadian life the 4,800,000 men who served in the army and navy of the United States, and the 500,000 men who constituted the Canadian forces. Stabilization of the many millions of men in industry.

How to stamp out Bolshevism. Practicability of building the Army camp type of hut in rural communities, for peace-time association service.

World-wide expansion of the American Y. M. C. A. considering many requests from many countries, including France, Italy, Siberia, Greece, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Armenia and Palestine, for its continuance among civilians, as well as with their military and naval forces. Possible use in peace time of women Y. M. C. A. secretaries, 2,700 of whom were used during the war.

Re-studying of co-operation between the Protestant churches, the old and new religion and welfare organizations and the Y. M. C. A. Three special commissions were appointed to study and survey the problems, as follows:

Occupation of the world-wide field: L. A. Crossett, Boston, chairman; Cyrus H. McCormick, Chicago, Vice-Chairman; A. C. Bedford and George W. Perkins, New York City; John C. Eagan, Atlanta; Gov. Carl E. Milliken, Maine; R. E. Olds, Lansing, Mich.; E. Rogers Kemp, Tulsa, Okla.; L. A. Coulter, Dallas; L. T. Warner, Bridgeport, Conn.; D. H. McAlpine, Morristown, N. J.

How Many Women Do You Know

Who can say they are perfectly well? "I am tired all the time," "I am so nervous it seems as though I should fly," "I can hardly drag around today," and all such expressions are characteristic of women who have overtaxed their strength until headaches, backache, nervousness, dragging-down pains, irregularities and the blues symptoms of a female weakness, have developed. Women who are in this condition may rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore them to health and strength.

Seymour Temperatures.

Reported by Ira Bedel, government weather observer, for the twenty-four hours ending at noon today.
Max. Min.

A son was born this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Little of Redding township.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS

Because It's For One Thing Only, and Seymour People Appreciate This

Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for one thing only.

For weak or disordered kidneys. Here is Seymour evidence to prove their worth.

Allen Baughman, 222 E. Laurel St., Seymour, says: "I do not hesitate to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, for they have proven to be just what is claimed for them. I have taken them for weak and irregular kidneys and for my back, which has been so lame and sore, that I couldn't be on my feet to do my work. Doan's Kidney Pills fixed me up in good shape in a short time."
